

Patient Engagement Learning Series – Speaker Bios

Culturally Safe Patient Engagement: What Matters to Indigenous Patient Partners (Webinar 2)

March 9, 2022 | 12:00 – 1:00 PM | Zoom

Cathy has over 20 years of experience in engagement, teaching, leadership training and program coordination in both health and academics. She has a graduate degree in Leadership with a Business focus. She has spent many moments building relationships with Indigenous patient partners and learning about cultural safety.

Cathy has worked in patient engagement since 2013. She is a member of the NWT Metis Association, Gwich'in and Cree. She is located on Tsimshian territory also known as Terrace, BC. She is a graduate of BCPSQC's Quality Academy and a lifelong learner. She loves getting to know people and helping them discover their strengths. Leadership and mentoring are things that Cathy is passionate about.

Tina has a Bachelor of Business Administration focusing on Marketing & Communications. She is a single mother to four children and a Gigi to two grandsons. She has lived experience in being the CEO of the household, chef, personal cheerleader, housekeeper, judge mom, PhD in anger management and reverse psychology, hairstylist, family therapist, errand runner, finance manager, personal assistant for the entire family, separation anxiety counselor, and master of thinking 'on your feet'. Tina has volunteered with the Patient Voices Network, BC Patient Safety Quality Council, and the Health Standards Organization of Canada since 2016. She is a member of the Nisga'a Nation and lives on Syilx Territory also known as Kelowna/West Kelowna, BC.